CRUISE REPORT

F.R.S. "MARA"

21st and 22nd September, 1964.

Two days had to be taken from the diving cruise on "Mara's" programme in order to carry out this the fifth of the surveys of Lochs Linnhe and Eil. Consequently gear had to be loaded on "Mara" (docked at Corpach) on Sunday 20th September.

The first day was spent in working the eight stations in Loch Linnhe, and by making an early start on the 22nd the stations in Loch Eil were completed and the settlement blocks in each of the lochs were successfully raised and replaced on the sea bed.

Owing to an adverse forecast "Mara" was unable to proceed to Stornoway directly work finished on the 22nd, but docked at Corpach for the night and sailed next morning.
